Market Behavior 2011

During the months we had a pick in sales on the month of November and a decrease on the December month, which is unusual. Normally we would expect an increase of sales during this month.

We have a successful year because the sales increased around 30% more since last year. In terms of volume of products we have great wholesale customers in UK, according with the descriptive findings in python we were able to see a big distance between the mean and median in sales .We should persued to find wholesale customer in USA and Japan to expand the market (mimic marketing UK).
